NWTI offers Wallon course

A beginners and intermediate class in the Wallon Belgian dialect will be offered as a NWTI course in the spring session to begin soon.

Classes will be at Algoma High school on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9. Josie Wautlet, who has taught previous courses in this language, will be the instructor.

Those interested are asked to call Mary Ann Delveaux, NWTI coordinator, at 487-2580, or Mrs. Wautlet at 487-5636.

Dictionaries of the Wallon words with their English and French equivalents will be available.

The purpose of the course is to teach the understanding of the spoken Wallon language and the pronunciation of words and sentences in this language. "We may even learn to sing some Wallon ditties," Mrs. Wautlet added.

Classes will be limited to the first 15 registrants.
